B.L.A.C.K Born Lost in Adversity yet Centered on Knowledge. This production will illuminate the significant contributions of American iconic figures. We will share with the audience nuances about their individual backgrounds, dreams, thoughts, and struggles that generally comprised their life. The purpose is to educate and edify audiences about this vital segment of American history while inspiring audiences about this vital segment of American history, while inspiring audience members to believe in something greater than themselves, particularly the power of faith in Jesus Christ to overcome struggles to be triumphant and victorious in life! This performance promises to be an enlightening, fun, and elegant evening for all who attend!

What are you thankful for?

Thankfulness has become quite under rated! I am thankful for simply waking up each day. Thanksgiving is much more than a holiday to eat but rather to break bread with people you love. In my family as we have prayer before eating we ask everyone to say a Bible verse and say what we are thankful for. My answer this year was simply, I am thankful for my family, health, and this school. God bless you and Happy Thanksgiving. Special thanks to the Johnson family!

Christmas at PGPA

What an exciting time to attend a Christian school! The celebration of Jesus's birth is awesome in and of its self. The students truly shined as the spoke and song about this man named Jesus! The Looking Glass was packed and all who attended, I am sure were blessed. God bless you and remember to put Christ first because He puts us first! Happy Birthday Jesus!
